Dear Customer,

20th Jan., 2009

Recently we have discovered the "Fake" CyberVision SV1000 card being sold with very cheap price on eBay.

To protect your rights, please don't purchase any unknown CyberVision video capture card on internet. Besides, please identify your purchased CyberVision video capture cards bear product code number and serial number on card sticker to receive non-compromised after-sales-service from your supplier.

Please feel free to contact us at sales@cybervision.com.tw to connect you with our world distribution partners.

We will be keeping our eyes on that and protect rights and interests for CyberVision's clients.
